

A message from William Amelio
chief executive officer

Statement of Commitment to Diversity & Inclusion

Avnet is committed to growing and sustaining a diverse, inclusive, and engaged workplace culture that fosters respect, appreciation, and acceptance of all people.

As a global company with more than 15,000 people who live and work in more than 125 countries, we value diversity across multiple dimensions: backgrounds, experiences, beliefs, thinking and perspectives to drive innovation, high performance, and success for all of our stakeholders.

Our intention is to advance a culture that values people for their authenticity and discourages intolerant behaviors. To demonstrate our commitment, we are dedicated to a robust Diversity and Inclusion program.

By having a deep understanding and appreciation for our employees, customers, suppliers, and communities, we can properly position our company to develop great products and solutions that improve society as a whole.